Daddy's little helper

Chloe Bordages, 7, and father Tommy share a leisurely day fishing from the docks at Bordages Brothers Marina in Lakeshore. Chloe stated her father's assistance was most needed whenever she entangled her fishing line or hooked into a catfish. For Father's Day Chloe said she might draw a picture of a spade fish or sheephead for her father. Chloe is the youngest of the Bordages' four children. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

No change in name for Waveland Avenue

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Waveland Board of Aldermen unanimously rejected a request to change the name of Waveland Avenue to Elwood Bourgeois Memorial Boulevard.

A list of responses from residents indicated a majority opposed the name change.

Ward 1 alderman Barbara Rappold stated, "I'll make the motion to reject the request due to the pouring in of negative responses."

Rappold requested a copy of the response listings be included in the minutes.

The request for the name change was made on May 19 by members of the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post 77.

DONATION

Life Scout Jason Roche was denied a request for a donation from the city for financial assistance in attending a National Scout Jamboree.

Mayor Stella Frilot and aldermen Rappold, Curtis Colson, Bob Hubbard and Stan Weidman offered personal contributions to Roche.

TRASH

The mayor received board approval to notify residents of acceptable items for city trash collections.

Frilot said residents are still placing appliances containing refrigerants, such as refrigerators and air conditioners, as well as car tires out for trash pickup. She added only specific services could legally dispose of these items.

She also said residents are required under a 20-year-old ordinance to bundle tree limbs and bag yard debris, which many do not do, causing city

Weaver gets life

Pleads guilty to Acker murder

Robert Lee Weaver Jr. of Bay St. Louis will serve life in prison without parole or pardon after pleading guilty Thursday to the August 1, 1992 murder of Lucinda L. Acker.

Circuit Judge Jerry O. Terry sentenced Weaver after his guilty plea to capital murder, a murder committed during commission of another crime.

He was arrested Monday, August 3, 1992, and charged with capital murder, robbery and arson.

The plea bargain included an agreement from District Attorney Cono Caranna's office not to pursue related charges of arson and sexual battery.

Had Weaver gone to trial, he would have faced a possible death penalty from a jury.

The murder of the 38-year-old Bay Catholic Elementary school teacher stunned the community of Bay St. Louis.

Weaver, 38, said he had visited Acker the day of her murder when they got into an argument and he hit her, rendering her unconscious.

Weaver, a maintenance worker at St. Stanislaus, was in the St. Rose de Lima Choir with Acker and her husband, Alfriza, who was director.

Acker's husband was in Texas with a church choir group the weekend of her murder. Her mother, Edith Lizana, and sister, Linda Moss of Madison, Wisc., found Acker's body at her Beyer Street home Sunday, August 2 at 6 p.m.

Lizana said Acker had not attended church Sunday morning, and the family had been unsuccessful in contacting her by telephone all day Sunday.

The primary cause of death was strangulation.

Acker had taught for 16 years at Bay Catholic and worked in ministering to the home bound in her church.

Weaver pleaded guilty to felony charges in 1982 of aggravated assault after stabbing Mary Fairconneture Weaver five times with a kitchen knife following an February 28, 1982, argument.

OTHER CASES

In other cases: Nancy Joseph Gambill, 23, of Hancock County, received concurrent 20-year sentences on charges of murder and aggravated assault.

He pled guilty Thursday after the district attorney's office reduced the murder

Diamondhead election

POA opposition sets recall June 28

BY LIZ HAAS

Almost 400 concerned property owners attended a meeting Wednesday hosted by the opposing slate of candidates of the Diamondhead Property Owners Association concerning the June 28 election.

Some members of the POA are disgruntled with the present leadership of the association, citing reasons as being excluded from the decision making process and lack of fiscal responsibility.

The new board mailed out their own proxy for a June 28 election at the Diamondhead Community Center from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Charlie Banister, running as president, discussed a few items that have caused confusion in Diamondhead in the last few weeks.

Banister said the petition for a recall election was signed over eight weeks ago by well over 5 percent of the membership and was presented to the board with an explanation.

"The board had 30 days by Mississippi law to call an election and they didn't. Therefore, we did so by letter," said Banister.

Banister said the POA established a July 14 special meeting to determine if a recall election was necessary.

"The board came up with a proxy that was a recall to call for a meeting to see if there will be a special election," said Banister.

"We have superseded what they're doing. If there's an election there's one vote. Their recall allows individuals as

ARMS initiative could revitalize Ammo plant

A senior Congressional staffer will visit Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant Thursday, June 24 to discuss a new initiative that will provide federal funding to encourage the use of idle capacity at ammunition plants.

Rand Fishbein, a professional staff member with the Subcommittee on Defense of the U.S. Senate Appropriations Committee, will participate in a "town hall" meeting scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant, building 9313, Stennis Space Center.

Those expected to participate include local community leaders and staff members from other Congressional offices.

In addition to coming to Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant, Fishbein is scheduled to visit two other ammunition plants in the near future.

The purpose of the ammo plant visits is to promote awareness of the Armament Retooling and Manufacturing Support Initiative, an act of Congress passed as part of the 1993 defense budget.

The ARMS Initiative provides a total of $200 million in funding which may be used by defense facilities, such as

Chemtex expects bright future

Representatives from Chemtex, a Texas corporation based in Dallas, will be present at the June 24 meeting at Stennis Space Center on the Armament Retooling Manufacturing Support initiative.

Chemtex plans to produce 2 million pounds-per-year of sodium azide, a substance used in the production of air bags for the automobile industry, at the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

The corporation applied for air quality permits from the state two weeks ago for the production of sodium azide.

"We hope to be able to get the permits issued within 90-120 days, which would allow us to begin construction in September or October," said Dr. A.L. Baxley, president of Chemtex.

The corporation would employ 50 persons.

Baxley said, "This is a very rapidly expanding business and we would hope this project, after being built, could double in size within a couple of years and further increase the number of employed."

Bay-Waveland school budget increases $.5 million

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Bay-Waveland School District proposed budget revealed an increase in expenditures totaling $.5 million for the 1993-94 year.

A budget review was conducted by superintendent Paul

Tisdale during a public hearing Thursday.

Expenditures for the new year are estimated at $8,830,328, a $539,289 increase from the 1992-93 year.

Revenue collections are estimated at $8,075,676 for 1993-94, compared to $7,691,992 for the past year.

Tisdale offered the following breakdown of expenditures: 56.5%—instruction; 9.5%—operations and maintenance;

7.5%—non-instructional; 6.4%—instructional staff; 5.9%—school administration; 4.3%—student activities; 3.6%—transportation; 3%—general administration; 1.6%—business office; and 1.6%—other financial uses.

Along with recently approved pay increases for all employees, the district will add four new teaching positions and the services of a psychologist.

Purchases planned include computers, three or four per teachers' workroom and new student desks.

The hearing was completed within 20 minutes with one person in attendance.

Board member Tracy Joseph was absent.

We think of you in silence, we often speak your name.

All we have now are memories and your picture in a frame.

Your memory is our keepsake with which we'll never part.

God has you in his keeping—we have you in our hearts.

A million times we cried, If love alone could have saved you, you never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly, In death we love you still.

In our hearts you hold a place no one can ever fill.

It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go alone.

 GOING HOME

Walking down the street one day with the sun, against my back,

I heard the roar of thunder and the sound of lightning clash.

I turned and looked at what seemed a big red ball of fire.

Coming in my direction, burning hot and standing higher.

Seeing just beyond me a mountain standing tall,

I ran to it full speed praying not to fall.

When I reached the mountain, I climbed to the very top,

Down below I saw a city without a dirty spot.

As I entered into the city carrying nothing but disgust,

I met a man, a friendly man, by the name of Jesus.

He took me to his father's house, and there they fed me well,

And told me that the fire I saw was for people going to hell.

That night as I fell asleep on what seemed to me a cloud,

I heard the angels singing and rejoicing out loud.

The next morning when I woke I was taken before the chief,

He said, yes my child, you're in heaven, may your soul rest in peace.

many votes as parcels of land they own," he said. "This is invalid."

"The board has threatened the petitioners with lawsuits unless they get off the petition. I have a right to sign a petition without fear of lawsuit, and so do you," said Banister.

Banister said, "They're banking that we won't get a quorum—which is required; but we're going to do all we can do, and we need your help."

FUNDS

Banister talked to the audience on the matter of funds.

He said, "The POA board says they are in the best financial shape and how great they are running things, but they never tell us the truth about the status of funds."

Banister said the board has a credit line up to $900,000 of which they plan to use to help pay for major projects going on.

He said all major projects total $1 million.

"They reduced our dues by $2 right at election time—which totals a $90,000 reduction—right after upping their credit," he said.

"We know the golf course needs work. We don't have a problem with that; but if you go out and get that kind of money, you have to address the entire community, not just the golfing community," he said.

QUESTION/ANSWER SESSION

The audience was encouraged to ask questions of the new board.

Question: "Can you explain the quorum to us?"

Answer, Attorney Harold DeMetz: "We need a quorum to establish a meeting and a majority to win the election. We are going to have a list of qualified voters and only those who are eligible to vote may."

Question: A member of the audience asked what will happen on July 14 if the new board is elected in the June 28 election.

Answer, DeMetz: "In my opinion, the July 14 election is invalid. This thing will not be settled by friendly conversation."

Question: "Who is going to run the POA after June 28 if the new board is elected?"

Answer, DeMetz: "I fully expect a challenge. If the new board is elected, we will be on the offense, so let them challenge us."

Question: "Do you have to be a member in good standing to vote, and if so, how will you know which members are in good standing?"

Answer, Banister: "By law, the board has to give us a print-out of the voters and certify they are eligible voters."

Question: "Why not go ahead and follow their election?"

Answer, DeMetz: "They're intimidating everyone and threatening law suits against everyone. We want to go on the offensive. They're going to have to play with us on our fields and with our rules."

Question: "Would it be to our advantage not to participate in the July 14 election?"

Answer, DeMetz: "Yes, but in my opinion, the July 14 election is a non-entity. It does not exist."

Question: "What about these out-of-town votes we need, are we working on that?" Answer: "There are 700 people who live outside of Mississippi and Louisiana. We are trying to contact the majority of the people—those in Mississippi and Louisiana. We need to work on them. We have had a lot of calls from other states that are backing us."

Question: "What if both boards win?"

Answer, DeMetz: "The 14th is a nullity because they didn't give notice in time under the statute; therefore, we did under the statute."

Question: "If this goes to court, will we sit without a board until the court decides?"

Answer, DeMetz: "We fully intend they will challenge us."

The new slate of officers proposed is as follows: Charles Banister as president, John Stevens as vice president, Jimmy Sandel as secretary, John Caulkins as treasurer, and directors Stu Aegler, Jack Cameron, Jesse Danna, Benny Mistretta, Ed Rosenhauer, Gene Sullivan and Roger Urbano.

Weidman questioned city attorney Lucien Gex as to the legality of charging residents for additional labor by adding a service fee to their tax rolls.

Gex said the city could legally cite the resident for not adhering to the city anti-litter law.

Frilot commented she wished first to inform residents of the ordinance and notify them that only properly bundled trash would continue to be collected.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Superintendent Paul Tisdale is seeking parental input concerning a change in time for dismissing classes.

I am a bit surprised by the fact there hasn't been too much response from parents.

The proposal is to dismiss elementary and middle school children at 2:30 p.m., while junior-senior high school students would be dismissed at the regular time of 3 p.m. or five minutes later at 3:05 p.m.

The reasoning by Superintendent Tisdale is to cut the amount of time students must ride a bus on the way home. This would also group students of the same age together on the busses.

Many times we hear folks griping about changes being made without an opportunity to give input.

This is a case where parents are given an opportunity to make comments before a decision is made, so I am hoping they will speak out now.

Comments should include name and phone number and should be mailed to The Bay-Waveland School District, 201 Carroll Ave., Bay St. Louis, MS 39520; or hand delivered to the district office.

We are now officially in the hurricane season, and constant hot, dry conditions have many worried.

Many of us can recall the summer of 1969 prior to Hurricane Camille when it was very hot and dry.

In preparation for the hurricane season, the Hancock County Red Cross will hold its first annual meeting June 30 at 10 a.m.

This is a very important meeting, and all shelter managers and interested volunteers are urged to attend.

The Red Cross office is located in the back of the Hancock County Courthouse in the Civil Defense building.

Those seeking further information may call 467-7609.

The Hancock Red Cross new operating hours are Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 2 p.m.

By the way, this is a good time for residents to make an inventory of emergency supplies in their homes.

It is good that there are many residents who leave the area when there is a hurricane warning. Upon returning after a storm there still may be a need for special supplies.

Lanterns, candles, drinking water, canned foods, cooking supplies and batteries are good things to have handy.

Like all of you, I am hoping this will be a season of no hurricanes for Hancock County. Still, we need to be prepared.

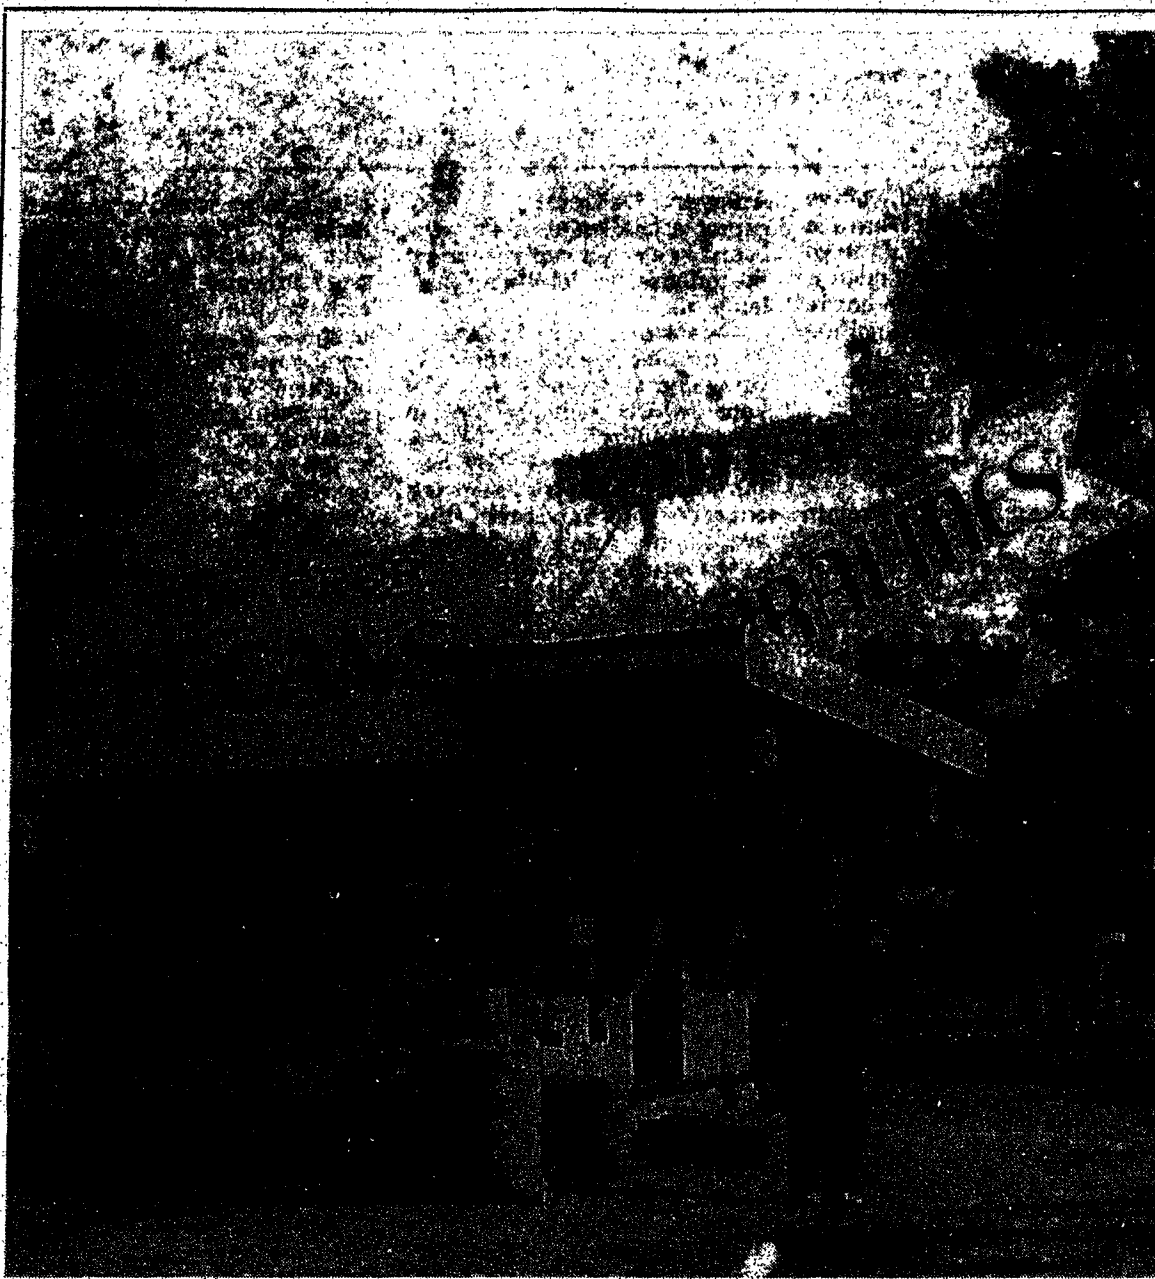

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's June Morning Edition is scheduled for 7:30 a.m., Friday, June 25.

It will be held in the Mississippi Power Company's auditorium, Highway 90 at Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Ed Covacevich will talk about the Mississippi Contract Procurement Center, and this should be of interest to all chamber members and guests.

The Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission is the sponsor for this month's Morning Edition.

There are many opportunities in Hancock County and the Mississippi Contract Procurement Center adds tremendously to this list.

Pralines were king

Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis was lined with 25 or more praline stands during the 1940's and 1950's, and the area was known nationwide for its pralines and pecans. The above photo was the original stand for Louise's, owned by Louise and the late Roland Talliac. She stands at the entrance. The original location for Louise's was on the Old Highway 90 (Ulman Avenue). Louise's is one of three praline shops still left in Bay St. Louis. Pralines made in Bay St. Louis have been and still are mailed throughout the United States and the world. (Photo courtesy of Bobbie Barr, of Bay St. Louis, a Talliac granddaughter.) The Echo welcomes photos older than 25 years for publication. They will be returned to their owners.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Alternative school is answer to many problems

To the Editor,

As a parent of high school children, I am very excited about the new "alternative" school planning to open in the fall.

This program will focus on the child who wants to quit school, giving that child new hope; the child who feels he or she just cannot make the grade in a regular class setting, giving that child a chance to excel to his or her potential; or the child who has quit school a chance to come back and get the education he or she deserves. All of this and more will be offered without a child being singled out as different or as a failure.

Hancock County will now have this program due to the efforts and dedication of Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois, a person who understands the needs of the children. But, she cannot do it alone — let's band together and be committed to her vision of the "Best Alternative Education" for our children.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi
Economic Council

Meridian is not alone

Nothing can unite a community quicker than an economic threat.

Consider the residents of Lauderdale County and Meridian in their solidarity to keep the Meridian Naval Air Station as an active military base.

Thousands of jobs and millions of dollars depend on the base that is recommended to be shut down, the mission and jobs to be transferred to other facilities.

Military spending is an important part of the Lauderdale County economy. It is also important to other communities throughout Mississippi.

According to the May 1993 issue of State Legislatures, published by the National Conference of State Legislatures, military spending in dollars-per-person was higher in Mississippi than in 38 other states.

In 1990 (the latest information available), the national average of military spending per capita was $544.

Twelve states were above that figure, led by Massachusetts at $1,318. The figure for Mississippi was $544. Only two other Southern states, Virginia ($1,266) and Maryland ($903) were above the average.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Taylor's shipbuilding plan will offset cuts in defense contracts

When the U.S. Navy announced several weeks ago that it intended to eliminate 117 combat vessels by the year 2000 to trim the Department of Defense's overall budget, many South Mississippians contacted me to ask how this proposal would affect our area's economy and the shipbuilding industry.

To get a better perspective on our current situation and how a reduction in our fleet will affect our economy, we have to take a look at the past decade. During the 1980's Americans produced about 100 commercial ships a year in addition to Navy ships. Unfortunately, during this same time President Reagan asked for and Congress agreed to cut out the construction subsidy for U.S. commercial vessels. While the cut was not well received by those in the shipbuilding industry, the President promised we would build a lot of naval vessels to make up the difference. In fact, he spoke repeatedly of a 600 ship Navy.

The reality now is that currently we have neither the construction contract for commercial vessels nor for a 600 ship fleet. In fact, I have been hearing for the past 18 months that the fleet will decrease even further to somewhere around a 300 ship Navy just after the year 2000.

What effect will these changes have on South Mississippi's shipyards and industrial base? Hopefully not much if we continue to think ahead. During the 1980's many of our shipbuilders and suppliers did a great job of getting a larger percentage of the Department of Defense pie as commercial dollars spent each year in U.S. yards rapidly decreased. But now the defense pie is quickly getting smaller and unless we act fast we may be in dire straights.

That is why I am working very hard on an initiative to build environmentally sound double-hull oil tankers. We could build about 100 tankers a year just by having $500 million in guarantees made available to shipbuilders.

The shipbuilding guarantees would preserve the shipbuilding industrial base that we need for our economy, and for our nation's defense. I feel very strong about this incentive and hope that this will be included in the Defense Appropriations bill which is expected to pass the House by July.

The incentive, quite frankly, makes much more sense than any other alternative as far as taking what were military dependent jobs and turning them over to private sector jobs. The reason for this new opportunity is that a market now exists because Congress passed the Oil Pollution Act of 1990. The law requires all oil tankers which call on our shores to have one protective hull built within the outer hull by the year 2010.

The hulls, which take less steel to construct and about one-third of the labor, would allow American shipbuilders to turn misfortune into an opportunity. We can compete with foreign shipyards. We know the market is out there. And because of outstanding craftsmanship and competitive labor costs the United States of America, which has historically been a great shipbuilding nation, will remain a great shipbuilding nation.

Fisher named CES superintendent

Dr. Rodney Fisher of Long Beach was appointed superintendent of Coast Episcopal Schools at the school board's June meeting.

His duties will include supervision and administration of the early education development center, elementary, middle and high schools.

"We feel very fortunate that Dr. Fisher is going to be our new superintendent," said school board president Dr. Terri Jones.

"He has excellent credentials and had strong references from people he had worked with in the past."

Fisher completed undergraduate studies in elementary education at the University of Southern Mississippi, where he also earned a master's degree. Following doctoral study at Mississippi State University he earned a doctor of philosophy in educational administration from USM.

He served as principal at North Bay Elementary School from 1988-90. From 1984-87 he was computer assisted instruction supervisor for the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School System.

Fisher has also owned and operated Fisher's Karate Institute in Long Beach since 1979. He is married to the former Lori Sallinger of Bay St. Louis. They have three children, Jordan, 6, Joshua, 5, and Jillian, 2.

"My goal is to ensure that our students receive the best education possible. I see no reason why Coast Episcopal Schools cannot set the standard for educational institutions in the region and beyond.

"Factors contributing to educational success are quality teachers, students with potential, parents interested and supportive of their child's educational opportunities.

"Small class size and a Christian philosophy are also valuable contributing factors. I feel we have all the components necessary to provide an incredible educational experience.

"I am enthusiastic about the potential we have here at Coast," said Fisher.

Can Pharmacist's discovery help food lovers lose weight?

WASHINGTON — "Depriving yourself of the foods you love to eat is no way to lose weight," says pharmacist Dr. William Morris, Director of National Dietary Research. Food lovers must learn that the secret to meaningful weight loss is not in decreasing the amount of food you eat, but in reducing hidden fats.

NDR has introduced a publication and low fat, compact, chewable food tablet that help you to lose weight without giving up all your favorite foods. The publication is free when you purchase FOOD SOURCE ONE, an NDR breakthrough in nutritional weight control. FOOD SOURCE ONE is a nutritious and delicious meal snack that can replace the high fat portion of your meals. Although individual weight loss varies, some people are experiencing extraordinary results with FOOD SOURCE ONE. A Niagara Falls, New York woman lost 75 pounds without giving up chocolate and pizza which are two of her favorite foods.

ON PATROL

SYRINGE CLAIM MAY BE HOAX

Authorities are looking for Robert McDowell of Catahoula Community who failed to meet with Food and Drug Administration officials for an interview concerning his Monday claim that he found a syringe in a Pepsi can.

Anyone convicted of making a false tampering claim faces a mandatory prison term, with a maximum sentence of five years and a $250,000 fine.

McDowell filed a complaint with the Hancock County Sheriff's Office Monday claiming he found a syringe in a Pepsi can he purchased at Dolly's Quick Stop in Kiln.

McDowell claimed he was drinking out of the tampered can as he was leaving the store when something stung his tongue.

McDowell brought the can to the clerk who removed a hypodermic needle from it with a pair of scissors.

McDowell complained of nausea and feeling very nervous after filing the complaint. He went to the emergency room at Hancock Medical Center and saw his regular physician the next day.

Sheriff Peterson reported McDowell's story had been consistent but there were conflicting statements from some of the witnesses as to whether he left the store or not before discovering the syringe in his drink.

The Sheriff's office, in possession of the needle and can, has been investigating the matter with the FDA and is now trying to locate McDowell so FDA officials can talk to him.

ammunition plants, which are owned by the government but operated by private contractors.

Many of these facilities have become inactive, and others which are still actively producing have a great deal of unused capacity. The purpose of the ARMS Initiative is to assist the facilities in their attempts to use this capacity to perform commercial work.

Under the ARMS Initiative, businesses may be eligible for some or all of the following benefits:

- * Incentives for marketing, loan guarantees and employment.
- * Use of land, buildings and equipment at favorable rates.
- * Access, when appropriate, to environmental permits and waste treatment facilities.
- * Planning and study grants through the Defense Department's Office of Economic Adjustment.

* Favorable market rates for services such as utilities, sewage disposal and security.

Ammunition plants can also offer businesses unique opportunities for profit and growth by providing proximity to major U.S. markets and to major land, sea and air transportation links; access to a skilled industrial work force in areas with relatively low labor rates; and availability of large covered areas for storage, staging and distribution.

At its heart, the ARMS Initiative is a "bureaucracy buster." Private businesses will be able to use government facilities with minimal interference and red tape. The investment in the ARMS Initiative should provide good returns for the government, industry and U.S. taxpayers.

On December 12, 1992, Gambill shot and killed Edward R. Julio, 22, during an argument on Belle Creek Road in a rooming house where they both lived. Gambill also wounded Julio's brother-in-law, Robert Kevin Lane, 19, in both legs and a finger.

Darryl Martin, 41, and his wife, Linda, 41, of Caesar Community, were awarded a $1.1 million suit against Linda's brother, Andre Desouza, 39, of Carriere for an October 8, 1992, shooting.

During an October 8 argument between Darryl Martin and Andre Desouza, a struggle resulted in which Martin was shot in the shoulder, arms and chest and Desouza was hit in the right leg. Linda Martin grabbed a gun and held her brother at gunpoint until officers arrived.

The couple filed suit against Desouza following the incident. Circuit Judge Terry awarded Darryl Martin $350,000 and his wife $35,000 in actual damages, and he assessed punitive damages at $750,000.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

There's always room in a hostess' repertoire for another special tidbit or other "bouchees" or "little mouthfuls," as the French call them, for serving at tea or cocktail time or other festive occasion.

And, especially at this season, a season of weddings and vacation visitors and such. One of my favorites over the years, and one for which friends have often asked the recipe — a simple one — is Cheese Balls. These are equally good with salads or soups, and snacks for the youngsters as well.

I usually keep some on hand in the freezer, but they're so popular at my house that, when I turn around — whoosh, there goes the latest batch.

Whenever anyone asks for this recipe, I always say, "You begin by washing your hands well. Not that you wouldn't, anyway, but the best way to get the mixture the way you want it is to knead and mash well together again and again with your fingers! Here's:

EASY CHEESY BALLS

2 cups flour
2 sticks margarine
1 lb. sharp American cheese (not processed cheese, the old-fashioned sharp "rat" cheese)
Dashes of hot pepper sauce
Few pinches of cayenne pepper

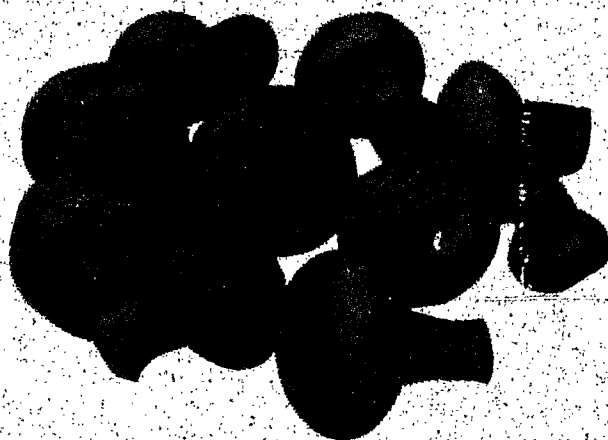

Put the flour into a bowl and add the margarine. Grate the pound of sharp cheese into the bowl. Add splashes of hot pepper sauce and sprinklings of cayenne pepper to your taste. Mix all together, kneading well, working the ingredients lightly with your fingers until it forms a ball of sorts.

Pinch off a bit at a time, and roll each bit into a ball the size of a "glassie" marble. Place all the balls in a bowl, cover, and let sit in the refrigerator for a few hours, even better, overnight. Then, scatter on a cookie sheet, and bake in a 350 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes, until just golden brown. If you're in a mushrooms

Pepper, salt to your taste. First, of course, wipe the mushrooms with a damp towel; if very sandy, wash briefly and dry, being careful with the water, as mushrooms are like sponges and quickly soak up water — and then you'll have to cook the water out and the flavor along with it! So, beware! Cut off the mushroom stems,

"fancier" mood, top each ball with a pecan half or sliced olive before baking.

You may toss some of the balls into a freezer bag or container, and store until needed. Just reach in for the quantity you want, toss them on a cookie sheet, remembering to allow a little longer baking time for the frozen puffs. (They are also tasty cold or reheated).

Another easy hors d'oeuvre is:

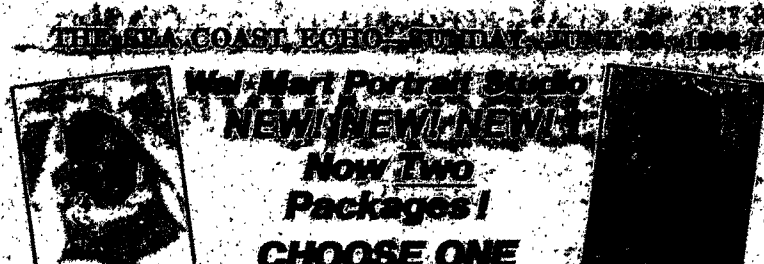

STUFFED MUSHROOMS

18 to 24 mushroom caps, approximately 1 lb.
1 to 1½ cups cooked, chopped chicken
3 to 4 green onions, chopped fine
2 teen garlic, chopped
Seasoned breadcrumbs
Butter or margarine
Olive oil, for drizzling atop and reserve, chopping some to mix with the chopped chicken. Sauté stems and chicken, along with the chopped onions and garlic very briefly in a bit of butter or margarine, seasoning with pepper and salt. Add the breadcrumbs, just enough to hold everything together, and fill the caps.

Sprinkle more crumbs atop, then drizzle oil over each cap. Place a baking sheet, pat a bit of butter around the caps and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. You may substitute chopped ham or shrimp or oysters or crab for the chicken, or just use additional chopped stems and seasoned crumbs. Enjoy!

Tossed Vegetables Vinaigrette

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1/4 cup low-fat vanilla yogurt | 8 ounces fresh green beans, rinsed, trimmed and cut into 1 1/2-inch lengths |
| 2 tablespoons white wine vinegar | Ice water |
| 3 tablespoons vegetable oil (canola or safflower) | 4 ounces fresh mushrooms, cut into quarters |
| 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard | 2 medium tomatoes, cut into wedges |
| 1/2 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper | 1/4 cup thinly sliced green onion tops |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | |
| 2 cups sliced carrots | |

Place first six ingredients in a blender or the work bowl of a food processor fitted with a metal blade. Process until thoroughly mixed. Set aside.

Steam carrots and green beans 3 to 4 minutes, or until tender-crisp. Remove from heat and dip into bowl of ice water to stop cooking. Drain and pat dry with paper towels. Combine carrots, beans, mushrooms, tomato wedges and green onions in a shallow glass dish. Pour dressing over all and toss gently. Cover and refrigerate several hours. Makes 8 3/4-cup servings.

Annunciation Senior Citizens

The senior citizens of Annunciation Parish had their monthly covered dish luncheon Wednesday, June 16 with 34 members and three guests present. A buffet, desserts and soft drinks were served.

Celebrating birthdays in May and June were Janet Mauf-ray, Lilly Kendrick, Jean Freed, Luvie Ladner, Wilda Mauf-ray and Janet Leake.

Games were played and prizes awarded.

Next luncheon will be July 21 at the parish center. Call Estelle Depreo or the rectory for information.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND

TOPSMS 233 Waveland met Tuesday, June 15 at the Waveland Public Library.

Janet received a charm for a 10-pound loss. Debbie received a charm for losing weight each week since she joined.

Charlotte presented a program on TOPS rules. The current contest is now in its third week. Karen was appointed weight recorder in the absence of Chris, who will be gone for the rest of the summer.

TOPS MS 233 meets every Tuesday evening at the Waveland Public Library. Weigh-ins are from 5:30 until 6 p.m., with the meeting immediately following.

For additional information call Debbie at 467-0784.

Kiln VFW Ladies Auxiliary Unit 6285

The Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6285 Kiln, hosted a covered dish supper and meeting Tuesday, June 15 at 7 p.m. in the post home. The meeting was opened by the president, Estelle Depreo with 13 members present.

Vera Ramsey, acting chaplain, read the opening prayer. The minutes of the May meeting were read by the secretary, Aloise Shiyon, and the treasurer's report was given by Bessie Nicaise.

A check for $30 was approved for pre-registration for nine delegates to attend the state convention in Jackson June 25-27. Various reports were given, and the activities for the months of June and July were approved.

Donations were made of $100 to cancer aid and research, $100 to the Mississippi Burn Center, $100 to the Gulfport VA hospital for patients' needs, and there will be a spaghetti and meatball supper at the VFW post home on July 10, 5 to 8:30 p.m. as a fund-raiser. Tickets are being sold by auxiliary members for $3.50 each.

The auxiliary received several awards and certificates from the District I convention in Biloxi May 14-16 and a certificate of special recognition from the Hancock School District Adopt a School Program.

The meeting adjourned with the closing prayer. Next meeting will be July 20 at 7 p.m.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The monthly meeting of Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 was June 14 at the Post home on Green Meadow Road.

President Susan Piazza opened the meeting; color-bearers Roslyn Weathers and Hazel Wohlschlegel advanced the colors and Chaplain Ursula Favre read the opening prayer.

Secretary Jeannette Ladner and treasurer Bobbie Tomlinson gave their reports.

First vice president Mattie North reported on membership and requested that members get dues in early so that they can be turned in at the convention in July in Natchez.

The nominating committee presented the names of members for the election of officers for the 1993-94 year. The following members were elected: president, Susan Piazza; first vice-president, Janelle Nicaise; second vice-president, Shirley Clemons; secretary, Margaret Prevour; treasurer Bobby Tomlinson; Chaplain, Ursula Favre; historian Gertrude Duthu; color-bearers, Roslyn Weathers and Hazel Wohlschlegel; sergeant-at-arms, Clara Arnold; executive committee members, Jackie Burkin, Jeannette Ladner and Judy Gayney.

Girls State chairman Anna Gayart spoke on the success of the Girls State convention and how the girls who were sponsored by the unit participated.

State president Lou Wilkerson thanked members for their support and cooperation and help during the years, which she said made her term in office a very successful and meaningful year.

Chaplain Roslyn Weathers presented a certificate from Hoot Reed Nursing Center and from the Woodland Village Nursing Center in appreciation of the volunteers who participated at these locations.

Piazza thanked members and officers for making her year a success.

St. Stanislaus College students—circa 1927

The student body of St. Stanislaus College is pictured in front of the old school building in 1927. Most of the structure was destroyed in Hurricane Camille in 1969. Photo submitted by Hugo Favre Sr., who found it among properties of the estate of George Joseph Slade of Laurel, Miss. Slade died in an automobile accident in 1933.

Construction to begin on soccer complex

The ground breaking for the Scott Demboski Memorial Soccer Complex was held Friday on the complex grounds, located behind the Human Resources Center on Longfellow. Tom Demboski said the memorial fund has $12,000. Seven fields are planned to be established by the summer, with all age groups playing on the fields by the fall. Other plans are to build a facility for restrooms and a concession stand and to build a road. Present for the ceremony were BAYS officials, U.S. Congressman Gene Taylor, Bay St. Louis and Waveland city officials and members of the Board of Supervisors. Dirt was donated by Mark Swilley and Steve Seymour. (Echo staff photo by Liz Haas)

Composting, a year-round activity

By Dr. Milo Burnham
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service
Composting is a year-round gardening activity even though out. While the warm months generate more compost materials than the cold months, because everything is growing, it's leafy greens; corn cobs; or coffee and tea grounds. The collection may include any vegetables or fruit that might have spoiled such as old sprouted potatoes; sweet potatoes or stored squash or pumpkins that have shriveled or begun to spoil.

Keep a plastic container with a cover by the sink and every time you're tempted to turn on the garbage disposal (if you have one), stop and ask yourself if the scraps can be added to the compost pile. At first, you'll find yourself throwing out things that can be composted, but the habit of saving compost materials and carrying them out to the compost pile every day or so is easy to establish.

One of the main reasons for not putting meat scraps and related items in the compost pile is because they can draw animals. In fact, all sorts of plant materials also can attract animals. If you have a dog who has access to the compost pile, you may find him snacking out of the compost pile.

One of my two small dogs has quite a taste for garbage. He loves corn cobs and apples. On several occasions I've stopped him at the door with a corn cob or old apple in his mouth.

The easiest solution to this type of problem is to compost in some type of enclosure that your pets can't reach. A simple bin made out of old wooden pallets or wire of some type will keep dogs out. I've tried burying the fresh materials in the compost pile but the dog digs them out.

Partially decomposed organic matter, the end product of your compost pile, can be used in all sorts of ways in your yard and garden. Compost is one of the best amendments for improving your soil and when you make it yourself, it's free.

in Mississippi Gardens

many people think composting is done only in the spring, summer and fall. Admittedly, it is possible to make compost faster in warm weather than in the cold of winter, but the process goes on as long as the temperature is above freezing.

Composting and recycling are action words of the '90s. You aren't considered environmentally active or concerned if you don't have a backyard compost pile. We're seeing more articles about landfills no longer accepting yard waste such as leaves, limbs and grass clippings, and home owners are being encouraged to dispose of their yard waste by composting.

Grass cycling, a program that started in Texas, is spreading across the nation. This program encourages home owners to manage and mow their lawns according to a schedule that allows all the clippings to be left on the lawn rather than bagged and discarded. Catching or bagging grass clippings isn't a bad idea if you are putting them in your compost pile, but bagging them so they can be discarded and hauled away is definitely amazing how much compost material can accumulate in the kitchen in a day or two. While you don't want to save any type of meat scraps, bones or fat, all plant materials as well as egg shells can be composted.

A typical day's kitchen collection of compost materials might include: egg shells, scraps from onions, carrots, potatoes, fruits,

Crab Fest seeks Miss Hospitality

Our Lady of the Gulf Crab Festival is seeking contestants for the title of 1993 Miss Hospitality. One young lady between the ages of 15-18 will be selected to represent the festival this year.

Applicants will be judged on personality, church/school/community service, appearance, attitude and academic record. Three out-of-town judges will comprise a panel.

As 'Ambassador of Hospitality,' the winner will welcome visitors to the community and to the festival.

A $25 sponsor fee per entry is required to help defray expenses. Sponsors may be parents, grandparents, businesses, organizations or friends.

For more information or an application, contact chairman Janet Aime at 467-2724 (day) or 467-7322 (after 5 p.m.) or Bon Temps Route at 467-4848. Applications must be returned no later than June 30.

Group helps family of mentally ill

The Mississippi Gulf Coast/Harrison County AMI, a group for persons who have family members who are mentally ill, invites new members to join.

Family support group members aim to help each other with understanding and assistance, to educate the public about mental illness and help erase the stigma that haunts a mentally ill person.

AMI meets twice monthly, the first and third Wednesdays of the month, to discuss local and national issues as they relate to mental illness. In addition, they contact local, state and national elected government officials in matters pertaining to mental illness.

Dues for the year are $15, of which $3.65 goes to the national office and $2.50 goes to the state office. It is a tax deductible organization, so dues and donations are tax deductible.

Funds raised on the local level are used to purchase pamphlets, video tapes and books to help educate the public. The funds are also used to assist members in attending educational conferences.

Make all membership and donation checks payable to Mississippi Gulf Coast AMI, 11370 Fenton Drive, Biloxi, MS 39532.

For more information, call Charlotte Newman at 863-1132 or Bill McKee at 392-0726.

I would like to thank all of you in Ward 2 who supported me in my race for Councilman of Ward 2. Your vote was greatly appreciated.

If you should need anything, please feel free to contact me.

Thanks again!

DOWN HOME

Money available for furnishings varies from family to family and must be determined on an individual basis. The income, size of house, size of family, stage in family cycle, plus values and goals, influence the furnishings budget.

There is no rule of thumb to be applied to all situations. The logical approach to acquiring furniture is to invest the largest sum possible in those items that receive the hardest wear and are of a more lasting nature, such as sofas, upholstered chairs, chests and bedding. Spend less on accessory furniture that goes in and out of fashion more quickly and is less expensive to replace, such as lamps, cocktail and occasional tables.

This method of budgeting not only gives the greatest return for the money, but also adapts well to the two main periods when families purchase furniture.

The first stage is the bride and groom stage, when family hand-me-downs are often used for temporary fill-ins.

The second stage is when couples replace some of the original furniture after children have reached a responsible age.

Develop shopping skills. Develop shopping techniques that will help you find the best values for your money. Before making a purchase, shop around and compare prices and quality in merchandise. Good design in furniture is available in every price range.

Gather helpful information about the items you intend to buy. A good label should provide many useful facts. Look at written guarantees and warranties. Additional information is available from magazines, consumer publications and by asking questions of well-informed home economists and salespersons.

When shopping, check ads, ask friends about best buys, and do some comparison shopping. By comparing prices and services you can learn to recognize the best buy.

Shop in stores that provide the goods and services you want for the price you can pay. Find out about delivery, installation,

Casino Magic Corp. donates new radar system to Civil Defense

Harrison and Hancock counties were the recipients of a three dimensional state-of-the-art radar system, that will greatly update reporting of weather conditions to all residents of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The new equipment will detect precipitation movement of severe weather conditions that could threaten the area. The main frame is installed at WLOX-TV for visual dissemination to the public, with access to Harrison and Hancock counties. In time of an emergency, it will be available to all media.

Director of the Hancock County Civil Defense Office Bobby Boudin said, "This will benefit us a lot because it is going to give us an up-to-date picture of bad weather every fifteen minutes."

This radar unit was donated to the EOC by Casino Magic of Bay St. Louis and Biloxi.

Marlin Torguson, president of CEO of Casino Magic Corp., said, "If and when we are threatened by severe weather, with the addition of this unit to our civil defense office, a warning of such conditions can be disseminated to everyone sooner, so they can take precautionary action."

"We are very happy to be a part of the beautiful Mississippi Gulf Coast and to be able to enhance the lives of all our people," he said.

Total cost of this radar unit was in excess of $51,000.

Red Cross announces new hours servicing and adjustments for unsatisfactory service.

If you are trying to keep furnishing expenses at a minimum, you may wish to explore the possibility of second-hand furniture, unfinished furniture, furniture seconds and furniture sales.

Buying second-hand furniture can be fun as well as economical. Check auctions, flea markets, garage or yard sales, antique shops and used furniture stores.

However, remember to look carefully at the condition of the furniture. Expensive repairs can make a bargain piece an expensive one.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

STICK TO THE FACTS
Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

BE HONEST
Aside from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

RECALL IT OUT
Advertisements are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

THIS BOTTOM LINE
State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

BE THERE
List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

ASK US
If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells. They're always willing to help, and there's no charge!
